Note: This Senior Housing Guide lists independent living apartment buildings. The following section “Senior Housing and Residential Care” gives a brief overview of different types of residential sites for seniors.

Senior Housing And Residential Care An Overview Of Building And Facility Types

Senior Housing –

Independent living apartments, most for persons 62 and older or 55 and older, many which are subsidized to provide affordable units for seniors who meet income eligibility requirements. See also HUD website, www.hud.gov/groups/seniors.cfm. Contact Senior Information at 1-800-510-2020 for the Senior Housing Guide.

Retirement Residences and Continuing Care Retirement Communities –

Retirement Residences provide independent living with amenities such as meals, transportation, and activities usually included in a monthly fee. Many facilities also provide assisted living services for an additional monthly fee. Continuing Care Retirement Communities offer a long-term continuing care contract that provides for housing, residential services, and nursing care, usually in one location, and usually for a resident's lifetime. Contact Senior Information at 1-800-510-2020 for a listing.

Residential Care Facilities for the Elderly (includes retirement residences, assisted living facilities, board and care homes) –

Licensed facilities for residents who need non-medical care. These facilities provide assistance with bathing, dressing and reminders to take medication. Contact Ombudsman, Inc., 510-638-6878 or www.acombuds.org, for a list of these facilities in Alameda County.

Skilled Nursing and Intermediate Care Facilities –

Skilled Nursing Facilities (SNF) are licensed to provide twenty-four hour nursing care including medical, rehabilitative and personal care. Intermediate Care Facilities (ICF) are only required to provide eight hours of licensed nursing care each day. They must offer medical, intermittent nursing, dietary, pharmacy and activity services. Contact Ombudsman, Inc., 510-638-6878 or www.acombuds.org, for a list of these facilities in Alameda County.

SENIOR HOUSING GUIDE

PLEASE READ THIS INTRODUCTION CAREFULLY BEFORE CONDUCTING YOUR HOUSING SEARCH

This senior housing guide has been prepared to assist persons aged 62 or older, in seeking safe affordable housing in Alameda County. This guide is not intended to be an all-inclusive listing of affordable housing. There are many other sources one may use, and we have listed them at the end of this guide.

The housing facilities listed may not have current vacancies, nor may they be taking applications. In some instances, waiting lists may be closed after the printing of this guide.

Most of the buildings listed in this guide are subsidized so that units are affordable for low-income persons. For U.S. Department of Housing & Urban Development (HUD) subsidized buildings/units, the charges are listed as 30% of income. For buildings that are part of other affordable housing programs, such as the Low Income Housing Tax Credit Program, there are some affordable units with rent ranges based on income (minimum income restrictions may apply).

Income limits apply to many of the housing complexes listed, and it is important to obtain this information before making an official application. Most income guidelines are established in accordance with HUD, however, they may vary from complex to complex! For many HUD subsidized senior buildings, maximum income limits correspond to 50% of the Area Median Income (AMI) which, for 2008, are $30,150 for 1 person and $34,450 for 2 people.

Elders seeking low-income or affordable housing are reminded that a severe housing crisis exists, not only for those on fixed incomes but for those who may be working as well. As a consequence, those seeking rental units in Alameda County are encouraged to begin their search well before they may need such housing. They may also wish to consider other sources (listed at the end of this guide), as well as Residential Care Facilities for the Elderly (RCFEs), since some RCFEs will accept persons who receive Supplemental Security Income (SSI) or have low to moderate incomes. A free directory of such facilities can be obtained from Ombudsman, Inc. at (510) 638-6878.

Those who have Section 8 Vouchers issued by Housing Authorities may sometimes have an advantage in the sense that they can “shop around” for apartments where such vouchers are accepted as partial payment for rent. (Those not in receipt of Section 8 vouchers need to inquire at the housing authority which covers the area they currently reside in for more information about Section 8; contact information for local housing authorities is listed at the end of this guide.)

Senior Information and Assistance programs can provide guidance to those seeking housing for elders, and interested persons are encouraged to call: 1-800-510-2020 (Note: This number will put you in touch with the Senior I&A program in the county from which the call is made.)

Every effort is made to keep this listing up-to-date, however, rental prices quoted are subject to change, and some housing complexes may convert to market rate rents after this listing is printed. Many of the properties have waiting lists, some as low as six months while others may be several years long. Buildings with closed waiting lists will not accept applications.

TIPS ON APPLYING FOR LOW COST HOUSING

Persons who may be applying for subsidized housing for the first time (and even those who may have had the experience previously) can sometimes be overwhelmed by the red tape involved.

Contact each building directly for application details. There are fees to process applications. Credit as well as criminal background checks are conducted on each applicant. If you are applying as a one-person household, be sure to indicate you are the “head of household.” You will be rejected if you cannot pay the full security deposit (in most cases), therefore be sure to have funds for your security deposit available.

The tips listed below may be helpful in seeking affordable rental housing:

1. Apply for an apartment BEFORE you have to move from where you are presently living. Since there are waiting lists, it could take five (5) years to reach the top of the list.
2. File an application in several places. If you put “all your eggs in one basket”, as the saying goes, you might have to wait forever for your eggs to hatch. Increase your chances of getting an apartment by being on more than one waiting list.
3. Keep in contact every 4-6 months to let the administrator/manager know that you are still interested in living in that particular complex. Don’t “bug” them; just quietly remind them that you are still interested.
4. Notify the administrator/manager of any material changes in your situation such as change of address or telephone number, change in financial or living situation.

Any decision about finding a place to live is complex. However, with time, thought, and patience, the decision and realities of the situation can be sensitively and carefully made, to allow the senior to have the maximum of the pleasure from his/her life and a minimum of grief and aggravation.

NEW SITES INSERT PAGE:

This “New Sites” section will be updated during the course of the year as new senior apartment buildings are developed in Alameda County. Check with Senior Information (1-800-510-2020 or 510-577-3530) for updates to the “New Sites” page.
